Word Gets Around

Randy Fellers has written me that the story about her in the Summer 1968 Issue (page 10) telling about her husband's position as chairman of the House of Delegates in the American Bar Association filled her mailbox immediately! She had letters from North Dakota, Washington, Oregon and Texas within the first few days after the magazine came out and the amazing thing is that all the Theta friends who wrote her said that their husbands were the ones who had seen the article first.

There's a new Theta Alumnae Club at Rancho Bernardo, (near San Diego), California. My notice about this came when Marjorie MacLellen Dawson, Psi, Wisconsin, sent me a newspaper clipping with a picture of the new officers of the club. Marjorie Dawson is with the American Embassy—in ROME!

The Tie That Binds

One of the highlights of my life occurred this past spring when my youngest daughter, Susan, was initiated Theta at Alpha Mu chapter, Missouri.

Over the years I had forgotten how much Theta meant to me and how very much it could mean to a pledge and initiate, still in college.

When I participated in the initiation of my eldest daughter Ann at Gamma Upsilon, Miami, I was truly shaken, as was she, by the expanded love and fellowship we suddenly shared. This was illustrated again when Ann and I participated in Sara's initiation at Missouri, and even more so when the three of us witnessed the initiation of Susan, daughter #3. I can honestly say that nothing in our lives has brought the four of us as close as has our bond in Kappa Alpha Theta.

Sixty Years in KAO

I'm looking with pleasure as '69 nears / 'Cause I'll be a Theta for 60 long years. / Years full of pride for the pin that I wear / Showing the world just how greatly I care. / We forget little details as years hurry past / But memories of Theta will stay till the last. / Sisters so loyal, sisters so dear, / Though miles separate us, we always seem near!

How To Get a Job

There was an offer of copies of the How To Get a Job reprint in the Summer Issue of the Theta Magazine. We would be so glad to have six of these. Our Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church vocational guidance committee attempts to assist our high school students as they begin to think of planning college courses. We find many college students need help, too. Since I am on this committee, as well as part time librarian, I can see that the How To Get a Job leaflet will be channelled where it can do the most good.

Convention—Pro and Con

Best liked about Grand Convention, of course, was the inspiration I received. Renewed friendships and new friendships have strengthened the Theta love I brought to convention.

Least liked about Grand Convention is the fact that there were not 36-hour days instead of 24!

SUSAN OLIVER WORTH
Gamma Rho, Calif.-Santa Barbara
Los Angeles Alumnae delegate

Best liked about convention were the two "open forum" meetings because I now feel I know first hand what is going on on campuses across the country and also how the actives feel about our problems.

Least liked were the lengthy reports on the last day of convention. I think each should have had a time limit.

KATHERINE TWEEDLE FOX
Alpha, DePauw
Denver Alumnae delegate

Best liked about Grand Convention were the two general alumnae meetings. I appreciated the opportunity to ask questions of the speakers. I feel I added greatly to my understanding of the overall functions of Theta and that I gained new thoughts to take back to my chapter.

Least liked was the fact that the small alumnae groups brought together representatives of both the very small and very large cities where chapters are located. Definitely problems, particularly in membership and public relations, are not the same and I felt that the ideas I gained for Omaha were few.

MARY ELLEN MARTISON ENGDAHL
Rho, Nebraska
Omaha Alumnae delegate

THE COVER: In his speech to Grand Convention, Charles W. Wurth, director of the Institute of Logopedics, related that he likes to think that the fact that Theta founder, Bettie Locke Hamilton, taught for four years at an Institute For the Deaf, might have something to do with Theta's devotion to and interest in Logopedics. With the "warm greetings of the officers and board of the Institute" he presented to Grand President Virginia Edwards (center) and Theta Foundation President Evelyn Tunncliffe the Martin F. Palmer Humanitarian Award (named for the Institute's founder and first director) honoring Theta for its 22 years of "great contributions to those in silence."

Quotation For Autumn

Overheard at Grand Convention: "We've got to make a pact, girls. We've got to agree to Stop Eating and Start Sleeping!" Reported by Sally Warner Marsh, Shreveport Alumnæ Chapter.

YOUR EDITOR HAS A NOTION that many conventioners shared the above feelings, expressed, we understand by Margaret Gilfillan Doty, Advisory Board chairman from Oregon State, after a night that was short on sleep and a Grand Hotel breakfast that was long on food. Food? Who mentioned food? Between memories of the luscious array of goodies on the buffet tables and the triumphant entrance of the long line of tray-balancing waiters at most meals, most of us find our mouths watering, even now, months hence. Other convention chit-chat (on the light side):

♦ Two DP's, Jean Whitten and Carol Anderson, were late arrivals, balked at hiring a "special" ferry for $21.00 to reach the Island, then had the good fortune to be invited guests of the President of Mackinac College on his boat—no charge—and such distinguished company!

♦ Scrambling through the registration records your editor found that there were 12 Thetas from Purdue at convention, the most from any chapter. DePauw had 11.

♦ Husbands got along all right as appendages to the all-woman convention but the hotel clerk nearly fainted when Charles Wurth of Logopedics signed in as a convention attendant!

♦ Two mother-daughter teams not in the convention picture (page 40) are Florence Huston Aves and daughter Trinkia Aves Bland and Jane Tuttle Lane with daughter Tommi Lane Adelizzi.

♦ Perhaps this convention set a record for interesting Theta families—the grandmother, mother-daughter (page 39), the mother, two daughters (page 41), the mother-daughter convention committee team (page 36), and finally three sisters who had a reunion for the first time in ten years. They are Alpha Tau, Cincinnati, Thetas Dorothy Carothers Holmes, Mary Carothers Bower, Ruth Carothers Campbell. Dorothy's daughter, Ann Holmes Parker, was also at convention.

♦ Speaking of reunions, three Thetas who attended the Spring Lake Beach, N.J. convention (1938) met again for the first time at Mackinac 30 years later—Clairnelle O'Steen Cowan and Helen Donn Flipse, Beta Nu, Florida State, and Anna May Anderson, Alpha Omega, Pittsburgh.

♦ The honor of having attended the most Grand Conventions went to Carol Green Wilson with 15. The honor of attending the earliest went to Florence Huston Aves, a visitor at Chicago, 1909.

♦ A distinguished conventioner was Bernice Allen Jones, Greencastle Alumnæ Club president and delegate, a lively octogenarian (page 37). Besides being the granddaughter of Founder Alice Allen Brant, Bernice has fourteen other Theta relatives, which include seven aunts!

♦ Working behind the scenes (literally) were Central Office Thetas Jeanne Gullett and Marge Beebe McAdams, who were busy distributing supplies, also keeping everyone cheerful.

♦ The innumerable alumnæ chapters and clubs donating merchandise to the Centennial Corner can feel gratified at the hundreds of dollars made for Foundation scholarships. Honolulu contributed the most items. Minneapolis' basket purses and notepaper took in the most money.

One final note—please notice your editor's change of address given below. We haven't moved; the Post Office just got tidy and re-numbered all the homes in our area.

Now, to coming deadlines,

Active chapter editors: November 1. Due: 100-word shortie letter on trends in education.

All editors and "spontaneous" contributors: December 15. Due: General items for Spring Issue.

WHAT IS A CONVENTION?

As I pondered how best to use this page to bring to the members of our fraternity a meaningful message for the coming biennium, the college delegates' reports from Grand Convention started coming in. I can think of nothing more inspiring than to share with you some of their comments.

All privileged to attend the convention came away with admiration for our intelligent and articulate college presidents and with renewed faith that under their thoughtful care our beloved Theta will continue to grow, to prosper and to enrich the lives of its members.

As we begin this important biennium which will culminate in our Centennial Convention in 1970, let these words be our "Footsteps To the Future."

NORMA ANDERSON JORGENSEN, Grand President

More important than all the information I received, I realized the true meaning of Theta. So often people find it easy to criticize the Greek system, but I wonder if they realize what it means to be a part of a national organization with all of its members striving toward common goals.—SUE SWAN, Ohio Wesleyan.

In just five short days, I gained an invaluable experience which was in varying proportions exciting, stimulating, invigorating. This impressive convention has truly helped me in defining my ambitions for my chapter in the coming year.—DAWN WILSON, Western Ontario.

It didn't matter if the clock struck two, three or four, we were all trying to learn so we could make tomorrow more worth living.—FRAN MULLINX, Kansas State.

In solving the problems facing our campuses, it is vitally important that we maintain national unity, and what was most memorable to me about convention was this unity. I felt the encouragement, support and strength of a great national—JO ANN KASHIKI, California, Los Angeles.

In listening to the problems of other chapters, I could see more plainly the weak points of my own, and in our discussions I tried to note those suggestions which applied to me.—JANE ROWE, McGill.

How lucky I am to be a part of a fraternity and a part of our Theta chapter. I also realized that if I want others to be a part of something as exciting and as wonderful as Theta then I will need to work to keep Theta as it is today—a voluntary association of individuals joined together by bonds of sisterhood and friendship.—ESTHER RANSOM, Georgia.

Mr. Wurth's address brought us up-to-date on the workings of the Institute of Logopedics. This charity is living proof that the fraternity system makes a valuable contribution to society today.—BRIDGET SULLIVAN, Newcomb.

With each experience I felt closer to all the delegates and realized that only a few years and gray hairs separated the alumnae from the college girls. In fact, a few of the alumnae had younger ideas than the collegiates.—CAROLYN POTTER, Miami.

It was wonderful to learn that "national" was not some omnipotent body which legislated laws and required so many reports. Grand Council exuberated a warmth and concern for everyone. They demonstrated to all of us, especially college delegates, what Theta for life can actually mean.—MARY ANN REYNOLDS, Washington-St. Louis.

DO YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE?

The accompanying article is adapted from a paper, "Identity: A Contemporary Problem For Women," presented by Dr. Gertrude Z. Gass of the faculty of the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Human Development and Family Life, Detroit, Mich., as part of a symposium on The Status of Women sponsored by the Home Economics Dept. of the University of Illinois in 1967. Married and the mother of a daughter and a son, Dr. Gass is also a consulting psychologist and was 1967 Merrill-Palmer Lecturer of the Year.

Drawing, courtesy International Altrusan.

If someone said to you, "Tell me about yourself," what would you answer? This was the key request made to a number of intelligent, well educated women some years ago as the opening "warm-up" question to a study of women in the middle years. The researchers were surprised to find that women largely responded to this question about themselves by describing their husbands and children.

All of which points to the fact that by and large women today have what might be called a "misty self-concept" of themselves. They are flocking to lectures, buying books, enrolling in courses seeking, as one woman puts it, "the self that is uniquely me." And in all too many cases it is hard to find "me."

The other word for "me" is identity, a term which has a clinical origin and was first used to study individual disturbances and social ills. Today it is applied more generally. The movement toward identity begins in infancy. For women an important part of its meaning has to do with the difference in the identity search of the boy and girl in adolescence. The boy asks, "Who am I?" and "What am I going to be?" He is basically concerned with his occupational choice which will play a crucial defining role in his identity. On the other hand, the adolescent girl tends to keep much of her identity diffuse and hazy, probably feeling that her identity is bound up, not so much in what she is, as in what her husband will be. In this way her adult identity depends heavily upon a future about which she cannot make clear and realistic plans.

Nevertheless, a 1967 study made of Merrill-Palmer undergraduate students shows that young girls paint the future in happily rose-colored hues. The girls envisioned this sort of life for themselves ten years hence: Married with two or three children. Husbands earning a comfortable living, probably in the professions or business. Homes, spacious and suburban in middle-income neighborhoods. Possibly a return to work after the children are older, perhaps part-time, but not as a "career." Community participation certain, as an expression of a desire to be involved in civil and human rights as well as an interest in serving others. The family, however, the major concern and the greatest satisfaction.

How ideal a concept this turns out to be—happy families, happy marriages, no major financial worries, contented children and some degree of personal realization! The researchers wondered what sort of response these same girls would make, say ten, fifteen or twenty years from now when the contingencies and problems of life have caught up with them!

Another study followed, which endeavored to evaluate these very problems that are likely to confront women later in life. Subjects this time were mainly 30 to 50 years old, of the middle and upper-middle class, about half of whom had attended college or had graduated. These women came to a Center at Oakland University at Rochester, Mich., which had been set up to work with women who wanted to reach out beyond their homes. A sampling interviewed expressed diverse reasons for seeking out the Center. These included: 1. A desire, occasionally unrealistic, to have a helping person discover latent talents or untapped resources. 2. A feeling of lack of self-knowledge and direction as well as a desire for an evaluation of their capacities which they felt they never had had a chance to test out. 3. A feeling of intellectual impoverishment which they wanted to remedy. 4. A need for help in finding a place in the world of work. 5. A validation that homemaking was a matter of free choice rather than a lack of potential for accomplishment in other areas. 6. Reinforcement from the Center of their sense of competence and worth.

The impression received from this composite is that a woman often holds two concepts of herself: what she is and what she could be. Echoing through these interviews were questions previously ascribed to adolescence: "Who am I?" and "What do I have the potential to be?"

It seems therefore less than helpful to brush off the problems of the older woman with the generality that she is suffering from an "empty nest" after children have left home. Although this situation does contribute to a period of confusion and perhaps chaos, the problem goes far deeper as many women suddenly realize that their sense of identity is still incomplete, their self-knowledge is insufficient and they are not sure of their worth as an individual. Complete involvement in the home appears to result in an intellectual impoverishment and a stimulus deprivation which volunteer work does not overcome for many.

Even for the graduate student who knows her goals and aspirations there are hazards. A study of young women doctoral candidates at the University of Toronto, all of whom were married with children, showed tensions, sacrifice and frustrations in combining family concurrently with personal fulfillment.

It would seem that as the life span increases so that most women have options for more than one career, education will have to prepare them for role redefinitions which will allow them to move toward an earlier identity crystallization. They should not have to look in their middle years for answers that would best be found in early adolescence or early adulthood.

Ibsen, writing the Doll's House in 1879, expressed this very well. He had Helmer say to Nora, "Before all else you are a wife and mother," to which Nora replied, "That I no longer believe. I believe that before all else I am a human being, just as much as you are—or at least—I should try to become one."

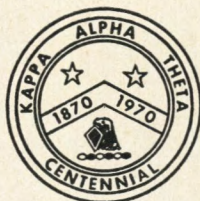

Which brings us back to our original question. If someone asks you, "Tell me about yourself?" what would you answer? Whatever your age, do you know who you are?

DORIS DREW DAVISON
Delta, Illinois, 1951

Member of the Evanston-North Shore Alumnae Chapter

The Centennial Committee and the Fraternity congratulate Doris Davison for her winning design. We also thank all those who submitted entries. The decision was not easy.

A beautiful Centennial Charm made in the design of the seal will be available. Gummed seals for correspondence have also been made. Watch for announcement of their availability.

Don't forget that we are looking now for a Centennial Song.

COLLEGIATE HONORS

Collegiate Honors

edited by Barbara Fuller Gilson
Gamma, Butler

◆ About the same number of chapters per year fail to report on collegiate honors. It seems mysterious! Does it mean that the chapters not reporting have an editor who is not on the job, or have no honors to report, or is it a result of probability statistics—in any mailing there is always just a certain percentage of replies? At any rate, 74 Theta chapters reported on collegiate honors in 1966; 75 both in 1967 and 1968. Early birds in 1968 are Michigan, Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Oregon State, Texas Christian, in that order. Oklahoma State reports the most honors: 23 elections in 10 groups. Second is North Dakota State with 20 places in 8 groups, followed by Auburn, 19-10; Tulsa, 19-8; Missouri, 18-5; Nevada 18-4; South Dakota, 17-5.

Please remember that these honor listings are based on evidence of national standing as given in the latest edition of Baird's Manual (1967).—BARBARA FULLER GILSON

LINK's Recent Accomplishments

In the 1966-68 biennium, with more members than ever before, LINK has been able to increase substantially contributions to the Institute of Logopedics and to add to the Founders Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kansas has for many years been the principal recipient of Theta philanthropy. Theta Court, built with money contributed by the fraternity, was completed in 1955. Since then we have been working in the fraternity, and since 1961 through LINK to build a capital fund sufficient for the permanent maintenance of the Court. This has been accomplished with the completion of a $60,000 capital fund, interest from which will be used exclusively for the upkeep of Theta Court.

Support of the Occupational Therapy Department at the Institute has been another of LINK's special projects. In the two years just past LINK contributed $50,000 to this department—we are working to increase this to $60,000 during each biennium.

The Founders Memorial Scholarship Fund, established to provide scholarships for undergraduate Thetas, has grown to $80,000. $100,000 by 1970, the 100th birthday of Kappa Alpha Theta Fraternity, will assure these scholarships honoring the four founders of the fraternity.

In addition to increasing support for the Occupational Therapy Department at the Institute, the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation looks forward to accepting responsibility for new projects.

CONVENTION 1968

The red carpet is out for all at Grand Hotel, Mackinac. Fifteen carpeted steps gave royal welcome to arriving Thetas.

CONVENTION IN BRIEF

1968 marked the third time Kappa Alpha Theta has held a Grand Convention at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Michigan. Others: the 35th in 1940, the 38th in 1948. The 48th, held June 16-21, saw 439 registered.

The general tenor of the convention epitomized "democracy in action." Recognizing the seriousness of campus problems and the need for an interchange of ideas, two convention sessions were thrown open to free discussion. Collegiate delegates were invited to speak on campus matters troubling them. Those from other chapters, either alumnæ or college, were then encouraged to reply, suggesting possible solutions. Grand Council Officers also responded, contributing insights based on their constant intensive study of the problems involving all of the campuses where Theta has chapters.

During the legislative session the following amendments to Theta's Code of Regulations were passed without dissent:

The national pledge fee for new pledges was raised from $10.00 to $15.00 as was the fee for re-pledging. . . . The national initiation fee was raised from $40.00 to $50.00 (It was explained that these were the first increases in fees in ten years and that they are now necessary if the same service is to be maintained despite the rising cost of living.)

All alumnæ were made life endowment members. (Previously only those initiated since Sept. 1, 1937 received this type of membership.)

The Code of Regulations was amended to limit service of a district president to three terms—either solely as an ADP or CDP, or combining activity in both areas. Retired Grand Council members are also prohibited from returning to service on the district level.

An amendment to the Constitution passed which provides that no member of Grand Council shall serve in a lesser position on Council, as, grand president becoming a vice-president. (These provisions are designed to give more opportunities to more Thetas to serve.)

An amendment submitted by an alumnæ chapter proposing that a district president need not be a college graduate, if given a special waiver of educational requirements by Grand Council, was defeated.

These received honors at convention:

KAPPA ALPHA THETA FRATERNITY received the Martin F. Palmer Humanitarian Award for "meritorious service in behalf of all those with communicative disorders." (See also front cover.)

CHARLIE FENTON CLARKE, grand alumnae secretary (1942-47) and magazine chairman for 14 years (1954-68), was honored with presentation (in absentia) of a Merit Award in the form of a special gold charm. The Theta Foundation's 1968 Fellowship is also named the Charlie Clarke Fellowship (see page 34).

DOROTHY SCHULZE VAALER, Theta's executive secretary-treasurer since 1962, was given a Merit Award in appreciation of services during the biennium, as one Grand Council member said, "far beyond required duty." (See page 38.)

INEZ BRUMBAUGH FRAWLEY, Mu, Allegheny, received her fifty-year pansy pin from Grand President Virginia Edwards on Awards Night. . . . BERNICE ALLEN JONES, Alpha, DePauw, Greencastle alumnae delegate and niece of Theta founder Alice Allen Brant, was given her fifty-year pansy during the "model" Founders' Day program put on in the alumnae seminar.

GRAND PRESIDENT EDWARDS, who was guest of honor at a dinner hosted by the members of Grand Council who served with her the past biennium, was presented with a gift from them: a Theta pin set with opals and turquoise.

DEBORAH CRAFT, Alpha Gamma Theta, was given a charm award (in absentia) because of her heroism in an Ohio State dormitory fire which claimed the lives of two coeds, one of them Theta Retta Foster. Deborah, by her directions to girls in danger, saved many lives.

District Sing winners were: District V, "best all-around"; District XIV, most original; District XVI, best music.

The Centennial Corner (boutique), managed by Marion Hedden Hinderer and co-manager, Jeanne Muter Bechtolt, was a busy convention spot (see page 36). Alumnae chapters and clubs provided items for sale to raise money for the founders memorial scholarships to be awarded at the 1970 Centennial Convention.

New this convention was a series of three classes in Parliamentary Procedure conducted by Theta's parliamentarian, Mary Reese Mantz (see page 37). Using a flannel board for illustrative material, Parliamentarian Mantz covered the principles of parliamentary procedure.

The convention closed with this inspiring recommendation: That the biennium of 1968-70 be devoted to appreciation of fraternity heritage, application of fraternity ideals and spiritual preparation for Kappa Alpha Theta's Centennial Convention of 1970.

RECOMMENDATION SURVEY

An important part of the convention business was the report of the Rush Recommendation Survey Committee which was appointed following directives of the 1966 Grand Convention. The committee represented all geographical areas and all segments of the fraternity. It was composed of Janice Richardson Schmuck, member of Grand Council's college committee and director of membership selection, chairman; JoAnn Crites Thompson, grand vice-president, alumnae; Wilma Trost Shattuck, former member of both Grand Council and of the Boston Recommendation Board; Nancy Pippin Duggins, rush adviser for Alpha Mu, Missouri, chapter; Miss Kay Killgallon, president of Gamma Lambda, Beloit, chapter; and Harriet Broaddus High, legislative chairman of the Fraternity.

As a basis for the study, comprehensive questionnaires were sent to all Theta Rush Recommendation Boards and all college chapters. Of the Rush Rec Boards replying, more than 77% replied that the recommendation system works well for them. Over 87% of the college chapters replying also said that the recommendation system works well for them. On the basis of these replies, the committee reported to convention affirming its belief in the value of a recommendation system. It concluded that the basic rush recommendation system used by Kappa Alpha Theta is fundamentally sound and favored by those using it and it provides a service to the college chapters—not a control.

The committee proposed the following:

1. That both the white rush blank and the green rush blank be revised. (Approved prior to convention, the new blanks are in use for the current rushing season.)

2. That it be made clear to alumnae that there is nothing in our laws which says that a prospective member must be known personally before a recommendation may be written. If an individual Theta alumna, or a Theta Rush Recommendation Board, has information from a reliable source sufficient to justify sponsoring a prospective member, there is nothing to preclude the signing of a recommendation.

3. That Kappa Alpha Theta's Appeals Procedure be called to the attention of the college chapters.

4. That the Code of Regulations be amended to read as follows (this amendment was passed by convention): "If the prospective member resides in a small town or rural area where there is no alumna member of Kappa Alpha Theta, and if the Rush Adviser can obtain sufficient information to insure that the candidate is qualified, she may sign a recommendation—therefore sponsoring the candidate. The recommendation, however, must be approved by the College District President before pledging."

The Rush Recommendation Survey Committee report concluded: To summarize . . . all study indicated that Kappa Alpha Theta's recommendation system is basically sound. From all segments of the fraternity came the plea to generally leave it as it is—with improvements to be made in areas where there are continued problems. Methods for making these improvements were studied, using suggestions from both collegiate and alumnae members to provide both better education and greater collegiate-alumnae cooperation. The committee sincerely believes that the improvements which have been implemented and those to be decided upon by this 1968 Grand Convention are for the best.

CONVENTION SEMINARS

College

Collegiate delegates and Advisory Board members met with Theta's College Committee and college district presidents during a two-day workshop for the purpose of examining the role of the fraternity, the chapter and the individual member in fulfillment of Theta's charge to be an influence for good. Quotable quotes:

On education: Being educated is knowing the difference between the important and the trivial, between change and growth, between happiness and existence.—MARTHA SMITH WHITE.

On character: Fraternity is based on development of character through the stimulus of close association of friends.—JANE BROKAW GAL-LUP.

On responsibility: We are faced with responsibility in some form through our lives. A person without responsibility would be the loneliest in the world.—LUCILE MOORE GARRETT.

Your chapter X 93: Chapter goals are achieved in degrees varying with the intent and zeal of each individual member.—ELEANOR CONLY HUNT.

Speaking to the subject, "What Makes a Chapter Strong?" Ellen Bowers Hofstead, Theta's NPC delegate, declared the office of the chapter Panhellenic delegate is most important. Collegiate president, Barbara Arney, Gamma Pi, Iowa State, spoke on chapter organization, terming "communication" on all levels of great importance. House management, pledge education, chapter finance, fraternity trends, ritual, were discussed. Standards, said Jerene Rutherford, former traveling secretary, are the keystone of sorority life, most important to all.

College professors may run over their allotted lecture time and bore their students to death—but not Theta professors! Not those who participated in the alumnæ "graduate school" at convention, anyway. It was Willie Metzger's noisy ticking timer which kept the Theta faculty (mainly ADP's) in line.

JoAnn Thompson, grand vice-president, alumnæ, was dean of the graduate school (or alumnæ workshop) held during the first two days of convention. Seventy-five alumnæ delegates, representatives from several clubs and alumnæ guests attended. The charge put to these mature students was to gain "knowledge, wisdom and understanding in fraternity."

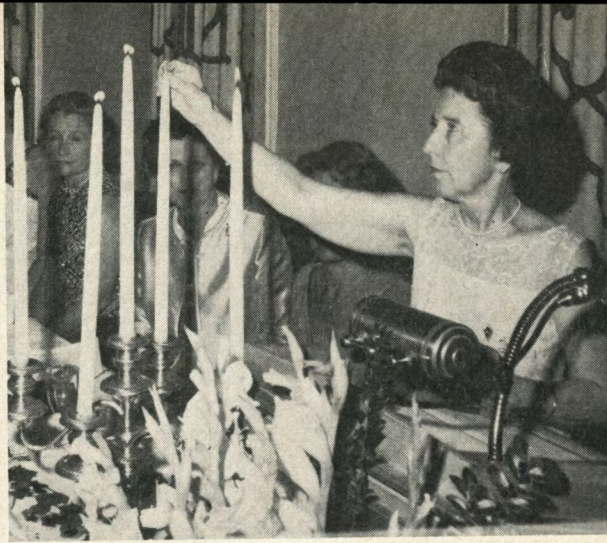

The goal was accomplished by means of short presentations by Grand Council members and question and answer periods featuring Theta "experts" in vital areas of fraternity knowledge. Most popular with the delegates were the small discussion groups. However, an honest to goodness quiz of Theta facts given during one of these periods proved to some students that they needed a good deal more study!

The most impressive session of the alumnæ seminar proved to be presentation of a model Founders' Day ceremony using the Founders' Day service as printed in the Ritual. Participants were Grand Council members Willie Metzger, director; JoAnn Thompson, Jinny Edwards, Elynor Hendrickson, Virginia Hood.

Alumnæ also found fund-raising ideas in the Centennial Corner (see page 23), program and project ideas in the Walkaround (see page 37), parliamentary tips in the sessions conducted by Mary Reese Mantz (see page 23).

Margaret Powers Kjelland, San Jose Alumnæ delegate, received "graduate school" diploma from Elynor Hendrickson.

OURS TO LEAD

Excerpts, Grand President's Keynote Address

The last few years have produced unprecedented pressures, attacks against fraternities and demands of fraternities.

These demands appear in three forms. The first does not concern us since it is the demand to remove from Constitutions and Codes any regulations to prevent consideration of any person because of race, creed or national origin. Kappa Alpha Theta does not have and never has had any such regulations.

The second demand is to abolish any contact which has the possibility of control of a college chapter in membership selection including vetoes, negative recommendations and a required recommendation system. We have no veto, we do not provide for negative recommendations, but we do have a required positive recommendation system.

The third demand is for no chapter to require a hundred percent vote for invitations to parties or to become a member of the Fraternity. According to the first Constitution of Kappa Alpha Theta, from the very beginning the Fraternity has chosen its sisters, "With the full and free consent of all its members."

I am sure you will realize after careful consideration of these demands that the real issue is—who makes the laws of our Fraternity? Do we as fraternity members make our own decisions for our own organization or do we yield control to those who do not belong?

Ours is a friendship group. We are not a student organization, not a service group and as a private voluntary association living in a free country we should have and must have the right to make our own laws. Our Fraternity has always believed that in order to have harmony within, all the chapter members should agree on the new members. The day that we give up the right to determine our own rules and regulations, we will no longer be a free agent—and one can well wonder if we would then be living in a free country.

Let us now explore the possibilities in the situations facing us. There are visibly two. First we can capitulate and change our laws to meet the demands. We can eliminate the recommendation system and we can provide for local autonomy. This, of course, means the end of the fraternity as we know it.

The other alternative is that we can work within the framework of our laws, keeping them up-to-date, strengthening our college chapters so they are an asset to any campus and remain a voluntary association—a national fraternity.

Now, let me tell you what your Council has stood for and what they have done, what they are attempting to do and let me remind you that they intend to keep every chapter that can possibly be kept in a free voluntary association and a national fraternity.

Our policy has been to cooperate with colleges and universities in every way possible as long as we can work within the framework of our laws. We have examined our own membership selection policies and those of other organizations and we believe in what we have. We believe our college chapters themselves could, if they would, make themselves indispensable to a campus and that our alumnae chapters and clubs can through their gifts to the Foundation and their leadership in their own communities as alumnae make this fraternity system one of the great factors of all times. We believe that we must within our own membership recognize that we should not be a focal point of attack on the issue of discrimination but should be permitted the same status as that of every other voluntary association—a private association with the right to make its own decisions without pressures.

Your officers who work with these areas believe that the longer time we have to prove our own worth the better will be our ultimate position. I ask of you—what are you doing and what is your chapter doing to prove that Theta is indispensable?

Grand Council has also taken certain stands and I mention them briefly:

1) No alcoholic beverages may be in any Kappa Alpha Theta houses and we urge moderation in the use of alcohol and the adherence to all state laws.

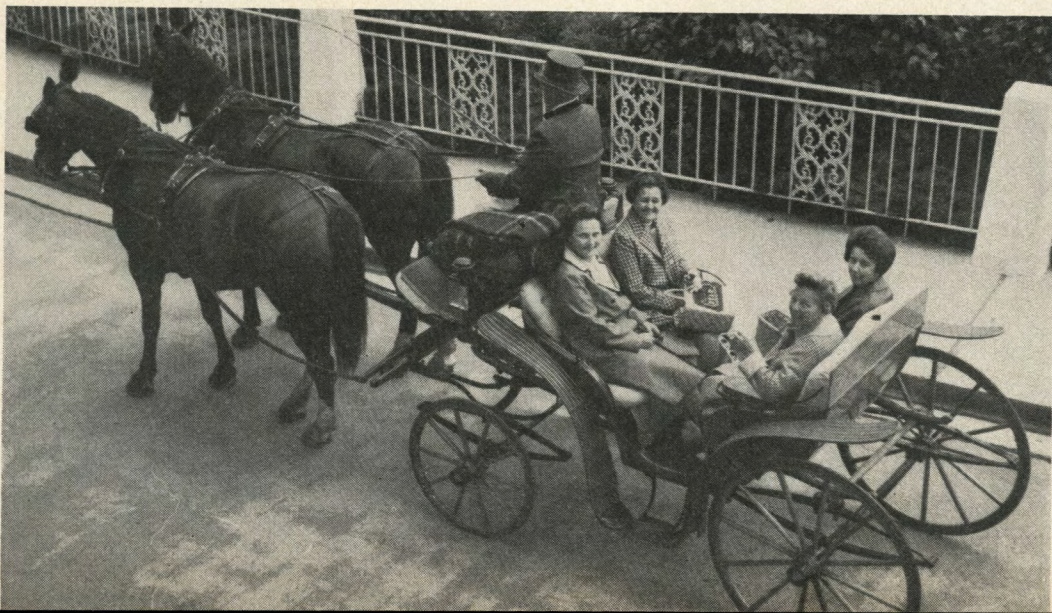

2) A strong stand against the use of any drugs of any kind is expressed.

3) Conduct unbecoming a member of the Fraternity is defined as behavior that falls below the standards of cultured womanhood and includes such personal conduct of a fraternity member as, in academic endeavor—cheating or deliberate misrepresentation; in social relationships—indecent dress or language, dishonesty or disloyalty to fraternity sisters or the fraternity principles and the misuse of alcoholic beverages; in moral behavior—premarital sexual relations.

The theme of this convention is "Footsteps to the Future." I have outlined for you the problems we face and have placed in your hands the responsibility for our future. Now, may I tell you my own beliefs in our need. Our Fraternity has left its footsteps upon the sands of time. It has impressed a path of the eternal verities—education for women, responsibility for all, self discipline, high standards of moral conduct, respect for others, close knit bonds of friendship and the right of free association. But the footprints of the future must not be made in the sand or in the soft earth that time and tide can wash away. Firm and strong, forever imprinted, must be new footprints—loyalty and commitment.

As members, to what do we commit ourselves? To an understanding of what fraternity means, to our vows, to give of our time. We are strong because of the leadership of the past; the years ahead call for the same devotion but a different pattern. There is a challenge to study the fraternity system and to become an expert in leadership; there is a challenge to guide in an era which has to develop the leaders of tomorrow. I dream that young women wearing the badge of Kappa Alpha Theta along with those who wear the badges of other fraternities will provide a never ending stream of responsible young women across the paths of the college campuses, the young women who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

What They Said

Ellen Bowers Hofstead, Theta's NPC delegate, past Grand President: How are we to preserve a strong fraternity with its right of free association as pressures continue to mount with one demand following another? Private, voluntary associations do have certain rights guaranteed to them by the First, Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States. Why should fraternity be denied the freedom to be what it is—a selective, self-governing group sharing similar interests and backgrounds which make possible basic congeniality? Let us be sure that we do not accept changes which will gradually destroy our fraternity. I am firmly convinced that far more than Fraternity is at stake. As we help to preserve our right of voluntary association we are helping to preserve the whole concept of a free society.

Charles W. Wurth, director, Institute of Logopedics: Just look at what Kappa Alpha Theta has done for the Institute of Logopedics! Between 1946 and 1967 you have contributed almost half a million dollars. But more important than money, have you ever thought of the thousands who might never have spoken, prisoners of their handicaps, if it had not been for you? Let us look ahead together. There are exciting frontiers in the area of rehabilitation. The very completeness of the Institute program of clinical services for the communicatively handicapped puts us in a position to lead the way as an ideal model center in communication disorders for the nation. New projects underway include a unique neurological program to aid in training with a full-time neurologist seeing the children and research into new ways to help the young deaf child. We are truly planning for the excitement of the future.

Dean Doris Seward, Kappa Kappa Gamma, dean of women, University of Kentucky: I want to speak on some things to hold to. First, the place of sororities in higher education is something to hold to. It is not slipping, regardless of what you may hear, because sororities answer an inherent need at the college age and also nurture standards that the institution endorses but cannot require. Next, you can hold to the thought that young people on our campuses today really are fine. I feel that today's generation is the most hopeful of all—thoughtful, honest, persistent in terms of the highest ideals. Let me say lastly that all of us need to look at what is called the new morality. What can we hold to? Sororities have an important role here, to speak out, not with prohibitions but with truth. Certain things are true, not because we say so, but because of the nature of man. Students today are part of a quest for a better world and sororities in their principles and goals are part of that quest.

Introducing ~

$3,000 Charlie Clarke Fellowship

A graduate of Louisiana State University in 1959, MARTHA M. HAMIL received her M. S. from the same school in 1965, has now completed three years at the University of Missouri working on her doctorate in geology. Named the outstanding graduate student at the University for 1967-68, her geology professor also writes that her "academic performance has been superb." In 1965 she read a paper at a meeting of the Geological Society of America and with two others presented a treatise at the 1968 Geological Congress in Prague, Czechoslovakia. She plans a career in teaching, research or government survey. Charlie Clarke, for whom the Fellowship is named, is the longtime chairman of Theta's Magazine Agency, retiring in 1968. (See page 23.)

$500 Carol Lynn Kurtz Memorial Scholarship

A June 1968 graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University, SUSAN WARD is doing graduate work at the University of Connecticut this fall pursuing her goal of teaching English on the college level. She has received the $500 Carol Kurtz Memorial Scholarship made available by Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Kurtz of Butler, Pa. in memory of their daughter who was fatally burned in a dormitory fire in 1967 at Cornell. Carol, a 1966 Theta Graduate Scholarship winner and Theta chapter president at Carnegie-Mellon 1965-66, was Susan Ward's freshman counselor. Says Susan, also of Gamma Theta chapter, "I only hope that my performance can live up to Carol's standards of achievement."

$600 Loan & Fellowship Graduate Scholarships

JANE ANDERSON, Beta Omicron, Iowa. Jane was a member of Mortar Board, president AWS, 1st vice-president of Theta. Graduating with a B.A. in special education June 1968, she will continue at Iowa for her M.A. and has a teaching assistanceship there at the University Laboratory School. She plans to work in elementary education and special education for the gifted and mentally retarded.

Members, Foundation Scholarship Committee making 1968-69 Loan and Fellowship Graduate Awards: Marion Yerks Bedford, Lambda, Vermont; Eunice Munger Ferguson, Iota, Cornell; Lucy Ann Balch Wallace, Alpha, DePauw; Letitia Mayer Williams, Psi, Wisconsin; Wilma Trost Shattuck, Psi, chairman.

MARY SUSAN BASOLO, Alpha Omicron, Oklahoma. Mary Susan has made college in three years, graduating from Oklahoma in June 1968 with a B.S. in mathematics. She was chosen for Mortar Board her sophomore year. She plans to be an M.D., is now attending the Washington University School of Medicine at St. Louis.

BRADDIE NICOLENE BENSON, Alpha Xi, Oregon. Braddie was chosen for Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board, was also president of her Theta chapter. She graduated in June 1968 with a major in psychology, plans to continue in the field of clinical psychology. She is now studying at the University of California at Los Angeles.

PATRICIA CURRY, Beta, Indiana. Patricia became a member of Phi Beta Kappa her junior year—quite a feat, as she was one of only 13 out of 4,000 students chosen. She also belongs to Mortar Board. Termed "a leader and a scholar," she majored in English and French at IU, hopes to go into government work.

LYNN HENDRICKS, Delta Epsilon, Arizona State. Lynn is a 1967 graduate of Arizona State, receiving a B.S. in microbiology. She has been studying the past year at the St. Josephs Hospital School of Medical Technology. This current fall she is enrolled at the University of Arizona College of Medicine, hopes to go into the field of obstetrics. She says the scholarship will "help make the dream of becoming a physician a reality."

BARBARA NELSON, Delta Delta, Whitman. Barbara is another Mortar Board member, graduated at Whitman in June 1968 with a major in political science, a minor in math. She wants to teach in the secondary school program, and with this in mind plans for a master's degree in education. She is attending graduate school this year at Stanford University.

The Washington, D.C. Theta Alumnae Chapter gives an annual $300 undergraduate award through the Foundation for work in logopedics. The recipient is chosen by the staff of the Institute of Logopedics and the name of the 1968-69 winner is not yet available.

Convention Pictorial

Said Mary Mantz, parliamentary instructress, basic are "order, justice, courtesy, minority rights, majority's will."

Texan Cay Womack, a swinging school marm, led Grand Convention singing and brought harmony everywhere she went.

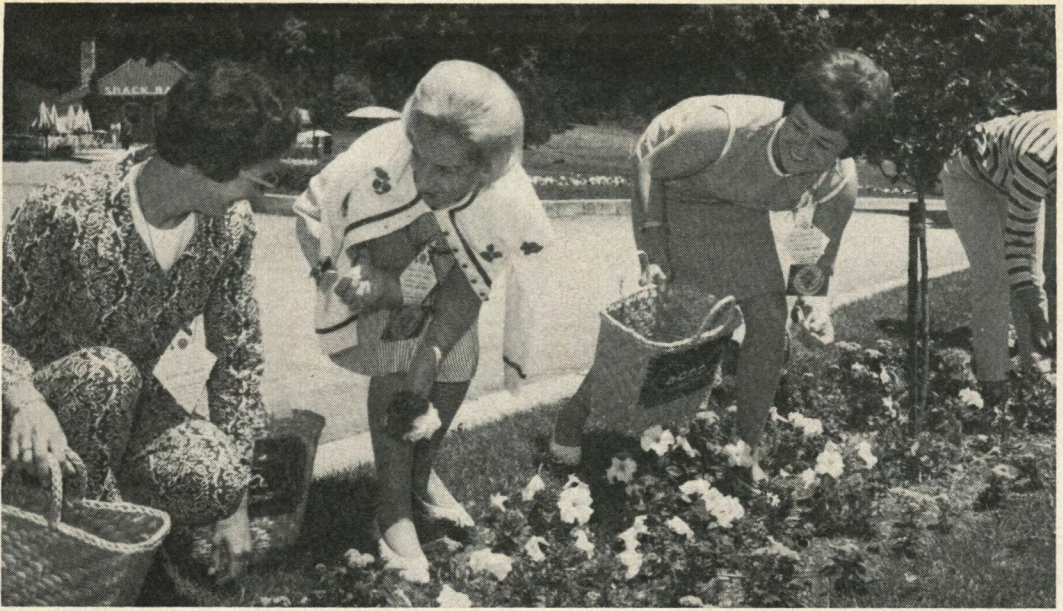

Working far into the night, editor Carolyn Carter was seldom seen, let the Kite's five issues speak for her instead.

Centennial seal made first appearance at convention (see page 6). L. to r., Mary Brandriff, Centennial chrn., shows new seal-charm to Hazel Lease, memorabilia, and Bernice Allen Jones, Founder Alice Allen's granddaughter.

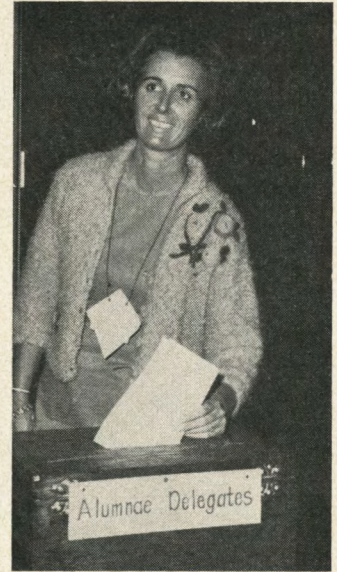

Let's face it—the flowers in this picture were supposed to be pansies. Why are they petunias? Any way, convention managers (r. to l.) Hattie Damisch and Ginger Boynton agreed to pick pansies from Grand Hotel flower beds for use as nosegays on banquet tables. Which they did. And they agreed to be pictured, doing this. Which they were. Or, were they?

Much-beloved executive-secretary Dorothy Vaaler is given Merit Award for Theta service from GP Jinny Edwards.

Up! Up! Up! go Foundation funds in the "every Theta a member" campaign. President Evelyn Tunnicliffe on tip-toe on a chair shows how close Theta is to reaching the goal of $100,000.

The "polls" are open for voting! Marjorie Smith Johnson, Phoenix, casts her ballot for Theta's new officers.

Fun Night

Legislative Chairman Harriet Broadus High (l.) and Parliamentarian Mary Reese Mantz mixed business with fun as they distributed ginger cakes in the manner of the ancient English to make "tired members forget the woes of political strife."

Costumes were judged and prizes were given to many. One set of prize winners Winken, Blinken and Nod—portrayed by Grand Convention's only grandmother-mother-daughter team —Lois Brown Harris, Lois Harris Haeefe and Nancy Haeefe.

Highlight of Fun Night is when Grand Council takes down its hair, discards formality and usually brings down the house. In honor of Mackinac being "Indian Country," Council literally took down its hair, substituting Indian braids, and in Indian costume did a stunt based on Hiawatha, read by Heap Big Chieftess Metzger. The climax, however, was unforeseen when the script called for "one last dance from Little Big Chief." Little Big Chief (better known as Grand President Jinny Edwards) thereupon put on an impromptu Indian dance such as Hiawatha had never known or seen—but Thetas loved!

The formal banquet marked an impressive end to convention with its moving toast to the founders and the traditional loving cup apostrophe. Then new president Norma gavelled Convention 1968 into Theta history.

If you think being a Theta Grand President is not hard work—then just look at Jinny Edwards, all poohed, as job is finally done!

THE EDUCATED WOMAN

A Goal For Collegiates

by Martha Smith White

Grand Council Member-at-Large

Excerpts from a speech given at the scholarship session of Grand Convention's College Seminar.

To be an educated woman is the individual goal of each of you. To aid in the total educational process has been and must continue to be our collective goal as a fraternity.

When embarking on a strong scholarship program, a chapter must develop a scholarship consciousness in each member which will be a dominating influence and motivating factor in all chapter plans. The personal study habits and scholastic practices of the accepted leaders of the chapter should set the pattern. In the meantime, until such time as high scholarship becomes a tradition in a chapter, there are measures which will help.

1. A chapter should study the scholastic records of prospective members in order to be reasonably sure of their potential.

2. During the first weeks of school a chapter can do much to preclude a weak start in scholastics for the pledges. One plan is to have actives aid freshmen in selecting a schedule making for a proper balance of difficult and less difficult courses.

3. Pledges should be encouraged to set individual goals for the semester or quarter which will help them do their very best in their work and not be content to "get by" with "C's."

4. An important lesson to bring to pledges is how to schedule time properly. For every class hour, two to three hours should be spent in outside preparation. The time to emphasize this is right at first, encouraging pledges to study in free morning or afternoon hours when they are freshest, helping them realize how different college is from high school, also how they must curtail extra-curricular activities in the early days in order to get a good start in their studies.

5. If the college itself does not offer a program of instruction in study methods, the chapter should undertake this at the very beginning of the year. The areas which should be covered are: how to take good lecture notes, how to improve reading skills, how to study effectively, how to prepare for exams successfully, how to take exams, how to use the library efficiently and how to write good term papers.

6. Members of the chapter's scholarship committee should hold individual conferences with the pledges at least once every two weeks. Every two weeks the entire committee should meet and discuss any particular problems needing solution. A record should be kept of the pledges' quiz and test grades so that troubles can be spotted early.

7. House study rules should not be too rigid, but, once established, should be rigorously observed. Normally on week days quiet hours should be from 8 until noon, 2 to 5 P.M., 7 to 10 P.M. and from 11 P.M. until 7 A.M. For those chapters having serious scholarship problems, it would be wise to add the hours of 2 to 5 P.M. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Quiet hours should mean just that—a ban on radios, TV's, record players, talk sessions, dates. The intercom should be used only when a girl receives a long distance phone call.

At the first chapter meeting of the year the rules should be reviewed. The chapter must also settle on penalties for infraction of the rules and enforce them . . . making sure, of course, that they are reasonable.

8. Physical conditions, such as adequate heating, proper ventilation and lighting, enough desks, also floor coverings for stairs and halls to diminish noise are all important to scholarship achievement. It would be well for the chapter president and scholarship chairman to make a tour of the house along with the Scholarship Adviser and a member of the Corporation Board to see that optimum conditions under which fraternity members can study are provided.

9. A variant of the enforced study table, called a subject study table, seems to be gaining in popularity. For example, an American History study table to be held every Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 P.M. in the room of, and under the supervision of an upperclass history major. If a type of study table system is adopted, it must be effectively managed.

10. Actives also should be encouraged to work to their individual potential and to maintain good study habits. The girl whose grades fall below a 2.0 should be helped by the scholarship chairman to set up a study program geared to her particular needs.

11. Additional aids to fostering high scholarship are: inviting faculty guests for dinner and short discussion periods; rewards for recognition of scholastic achievement and improvement; limitation of participation in outside activities if grades fall below a certain level; sending news stories to college and hometown papers when a girl receives an honor; writing parents once a semester or quarter.

12. The scholarship committee, established according to the criteria in the College Chapter Handbook, should be made up of students with good scholastic standing who make up a program early in the year based on the chapter's previous records. After the chapter's approval of the plan it should be conscientiously carried out. At the conclusion of the year an evaluation should be made.

No program, of course, is perfect, but a chapter will be better for having given honest effort to trying to improve its scholastic standing and even more importantly, the standing of the individual member. Scholarship is indeed an important facet, one of many, which make the truly educated woman.

Traveling Secretaries

We don't mean to suggest by the picture above that the 1968-69 Theta traveling secretaries are going to bicycle around the country visiting chapters, but we've no doubt they are energetic and dedicated enough to do this if all other modes of transportation fail! Of course, the picture was taken at Grand Convention.

GALE HAYS (left), Beta Nu, Florida State, selected for Who's Who on campus, graduated 1968 with double major in social welfare and elementary education.

CLAUDIA HANSEN (center), Gamma Tau, Tulsa, another 1968 graduate who plans eventually to teach High School English. She was a member of Mortar Board, selected for Who's Who on campus.

BETSY ATKINS (right), Gamma Theta, Carnegie-Mellon, is a former Junior Panhellenic president on campus. Upon graduation in June she received a B.S. in foods and nutrition.

Redistricting

Since many of the newest college chapters have been added in the southeastern part of the country, making a greater load for certain college district presidents, Grand Council voted in June 1968 to establish an eighteenth Theta district. Some boundaries had to be changed and some chapters and clubs moved from one district to another.

The following districts are affected by the changes: IV, V, X, XI, XVII and XVIII.

Please check the directory in this issue of the magazine for the current listing of districts and their district officers.

Colonization at Tennessee

Grand Council is happy to announce that Kappa Alpha Theta has accepted the invitation of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, to establish a chapter on that campus. Colonization of our Delta Pi chapter took place on October 2-5, 1968. Alumnæ are requested to send recommendations for qualified girls who are unaffiliated and are attending the University to Mrs. W. Byron Garrett, 4526 Ivanhoe, Houston, Texas 77027.

We Welcome

These alumnæ clubs—

RANCHO BERNARDO, CALIFORNIA—president, Miss Marion Hanna, San Diego, California.
SANTA FE-LOS ALAMOS, NEW MEXICO—president, Mrs. William Ogden, Santa Fe.

Farwell—and Hello!

We wish well to the following Grand Council members who retired at the 1968 convention: Jane Clemons, Jinny Edwards (president), Opal McCelvey, Janice Schmuck, Florence Scott, Marge Stallings. Also, Charlie Clarke retired as the longtime Magazine Chrm.

However, fortunately for Theta, retiring officers rarely lose interest, often put their Theta know-how to work in other jobs. Viz., Esther Elzey Cleaves, a former district president, also member-at-large on Grand Council, who now takes over as the new Magazine Agency Chairman. Welcome aboard to you, Esther!

It is by dying that one awakens to eternal life.

A PEEK INSIDE

What do Kappa Alpha Theta's grand ("grand" in more ways than one!) officers do in their spare time? Well, let's see.

In listing their hobbies the five top officers manage a total of eleven—and no two have the same one! These hobbies are art, reading, wild flower gardening, poetry, plain gardening, knitting, sewing, collecting luster pitchers, children, grandchildren and Theta!

Some members-at-large agreed on some hobbies: four like golf, four like traveling. (Being Theta officers, indeed they better like to travel!) Three sew, three others garden. Two say that "people" are their hobby (good for a Theta officer, too!). Other hobbies enjoyed by one each include photography, rock polishing, handicrafts, Indian lore, fishing, flower arranging, genealogy, crossword puzzles, duplicate bridge, knitting, reading, spectator sports, decoupage.

Six of the fifteen members of Grand Council use their "spare" time to work. (Yes, says one, I am a homemaker; it's "work" but also fun. True, but we're talking about work outside the home!) A vice-president is a high school Home Ec teacher; another is secretary-treasurer of the family business; another assists her husband in market research. One member-at-large is a freelance writer-photographer; one has a part-time university job, another is secretary in a social service organization.

So it goes with the Theta top brass. Who was it said that if you want to get something done ask the busiest person you know?

THE L. G. BALFOUR COMPANY Attleboro, Mass.

is the official jeweler for badges and all jewelry items bearing Kappa Alpha Theta insignia.

To Theta Parents:

Your daughter's magazine is sent to her home address while she is in college and we hope that you enjoy seeing it. But if she is no longer in college and is not living at home, please send her new permanent address to Kappa Alpha Theta, Suite 342, 1580 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois, 60201.

Mrs. John C. Gallup A Lambda

Seattle, Washington 98105

Who hasn't dreamed of driving about in a surrey with a fringe on top? Mackinac is the place to go to realize this dream and Thetas at the 1968 Grand Convention on Mackinac Island arrived at the Grand Hotel in carriages, left in carriages, drove around the Island in carriages, thoroughly enjoyed this return to a "horse and buggy age."
